

MODEL HUSBAND SCARED OF HIS WIFE

Didn't Dare Go to Meats, Says Brand, and Slept in Woodshed With Pigeons.

John Brand of Massport, L. I., veteran of sixteen years' domestic wars and father of ten children, had his wife arraigned before Magistrate Conway in Long Island City yesterday. He charged her with profanity and beating the children. He pictured himself as a model husband, who did not drink, smoke or smoke, but who feared his wife so much he often was afraid to eat at home and slept with his pigeons in the woodshed.

Mrs. Brand denied his charges, and said the trouble of John was that he spent money on his pigeons instead of on his family. Magistrate Conway dismissed the case.

BUYERS OF DRUGS

Addicts Seeking Cure Advised to Apply to McAdoo—Seize Alleged Vendor's Supply.

Dr. Carlton Simon, head of the Narcotic Squad, has issued a statement, advising all drug addicts who desire a cure to apply to Chief City Magistrate McAdoo, at No. 300 Mulberry Street, for self-commitment. Dr. Simon also declared that all addicts who buy drugs in the streets are marked for arrest. He warns addicts not to take private cures.

Sergeant Mooney of the Narcotic Squad arrested James Coletto of No. 214 East 14th Street, and locked him up at Police Headquarters on a charge of vending narcotics. A cigar box full of what appeared to be heroin, valued at $5,000, it is alleged, was found in Coletto's room, with 250 cubes of alleged morphine and several bottles of cocaine. Dr. Simon said Coletto had a clientele made up, seemingly, of well-to-do persons.
